PROFILE

Accomplished Studio Assistant Manager with extensive experience in leading high-performing teams, and knowledge within the art sector. I'm adept in management techniques, inspiring team leadership and effective budgetary operations. Selected for an interview for BBC news to promote Art Funding. I campaigned for a current position on the student leadership team as a digital and online manager controlling media representation and leading a group of editors. I've entered paintings into the Royal Academy summer exhibition. During my education, I was an active member of my community receiving bronze, silver and golden leadership awards whilst also completing a Peer support course and a Jack Petchey speak-out awarding challenge. I have undertaken commissions on completing artwork not only from an audience but by my sixth form. I completed multiple leadership courses and am capable of providing service in a warm, efficient, and courteous manner while exceeding customer expectations and maintaining poise and a sense of humour in demanding environments. I've a strong history of exceptional service in Art and Teaching establishments.
